RE: Case No 2007-00410

To Whom It May Concern:

Will LG & E be able to guarantee that I will receive my bill in a timely manner to make up for the 5 less days allowed to make payment? In other words, that my bill will not be delivered to another address, then I wait for it to be forwarded to me (if the receiver even does that). Will LG & E's accounts receivable record receipts in a timely manner (i.e., the day payment is received)?

If LG & E wants customers to do their part, pay the bill 5 days earlier, then LG & E must do their part in not being the cause of customers being charged a late penalty.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Lee R. Whelan". The signature is written in a cursive style with a large, circular flourish at the end.
